Save this

12 rules AI breaks in every press release.

And how to make it stop.
Swipe →

S2 Counts H2 Credentials L1 Spelling N1 Filler

12 rules · 1 and 2

Rule 01

The count matches the headline

"5 tips" means five. Not six. Not four and a vibe.

Rule 02

Items are what the headline promised

Mistakes are mistakes. Tips are tips. Don't swap them mid-list.

Rule 03

Every brief point gets covered

The client asked for four points. Count them back.

Rule 04

The real credential, never "expert"

"Chartered financial planner" beats "finance expert". Every time.

Rule 05

House labels, word for word

If it's "What to do:", it's never "Top tip:".

Rule 06

No placeholders

"TBD%" has never been a statistic.

Rule 07

Spelling matches the outlet

London outlet, London spelling. Colour, organise, centre.

Rule 08

No em dashes

The fastest way to look like a robot wrote it.

Rule 09

No AI filler

Delete "in today's fast-paced world". Nobody misses it.

Rule 10

Open on the point

First sentence: the news. Not a scene, not a mood.

Rule 11

Quotes sound like people

People say "we're pleased". Brochures say "thrilled to announce".

Rule 12

Nothing invented

No made-up numbers, names or quotes. Flag what's missing.

Your rules, not ours

Your agency has its own 12. Probably 30.

We write them down and build them into your AI, with a checker that catches every break.

House Rules Kit · $99

encoded

getencoded.co